

What to do Before a Hazardous Materials Incident

Upper Dublin Township has an emergency management planning group that collects data about hazardous materials in the community. This group is also tasked with developing an emergency plan to prepare for and respond to chemical emergencies in the community, ways the public will be notified and actions the public must take in the event of a release are part of the plan.

You should add the following supplies to your disaster kit for this type of emergency:

- Plastic sheeting
- Duct tape
- Scissors
